The House Republican canons committee are assured that by Wednesday or Thursday enough of their Republicans will have returned to put the House sgain under Republican control. The Committee on Elections will then bring up the Lynch-Chalmers contest, and the first strict party fight of the session be on. The threat of the Democrats to filibuster in the case may not be carried out, because of a very general belief that they do not have in it their strongest case. The Southern members are unanimous in demanding that a stand be made on this case, because it involves the whole question of contested seats in the South—that is, the finality of returns of State officials. The Republicans are assured of the solid Greenback and Independent vote to unseat Chalmers, and Greenbacker Lowe will be seated in place of Wheeler, in the will be seated in place of Wheeler, in the will be seated in place of Wheeler, in the will be seated in place of Wheeler, in the rate of interest to be four, five and six unseat Chalmers, and Greenbacker Lowe will be seated in place of Wheeler, in the Alabama contest, by the same vote which will seat Lynch.

A decision which involves well-known parties and a large amount of money, was given by the Supreme Court to-day, in the case of Hermann Blennerhasset, W. A. This was a suit brought by the appellants as members and assigned by the appellants as members and as authoritation and unsertical consistents of a respectful hearing in these times of a percentage of a points are the committee and not the bin. This was a suit brought by the appel-lants as members and assignees of the firm of Allen, Stephens & Co., of New York City, to foreclose a mortgage given to said firm b. B. F. Allen, who was also one of its mem bers, as security for the alleged indebtedness of about $900,000. Soon after executing the mortgage B. F. Allen became insolvent and went into bankruptcy. His assignee in bankruptcy, acting in behalf of the creditors other than Allen, Stephens & Co., resists the foreclosure proceedings on Arizona having asket the ground that they are part of an attempt to defraud such other creditors by the corrupt transfer of property just previous to in-solvency. This court holds that the mort-gage which appellants seek to foreclose is a trand upon the creditors of Allen, and is void at common law; and that the conduct void at common law; and that the conduct of the mortgagees shows them to be without a claim to the consideration of a courf of equity; on the contrary; it clearly appears to be the duty of the court to take care that Territory to see if militia is a necessity.
